Target Audience

The target audience includes physicians specializing in emergency medicine, internal medicine, general and family practice, critical care as well as nurses, physician assistants, and pharmacists providing a multidisciplinary approach to improve patient care.

Why You Should Attend This Course

Emergency departments are the “front line” of health care in this country, providing an extraordinary public safety function. Health care delivery is changing rapidly and emergency care is no exception. This educational activity provides an opportunity for physicians involved in the delivery of emergency medicine to review important topics and discuss recent advances.

As a result of course participant evaluations and community physician annual needs assessment surveys, the need for cutting edge information about emergency medicine has been identified. The course is designed to change physician competence in areas identified in the needs assessments, including cardiac, neurologic, trauma, pediatric, elderly and general medical emergencies.

This year’s four-day conference will specifically address these identified educational needs and provide practitioners with state-of-the-art tools to provide improved treatment options for their patients. Faculty presenting and interacting with participants at this activity have been selected on the basis of their comprehensive clinical experience and academic excellence.

Educational Methods

- Lectures with Q and A will be used to facilitate the dissemination of up-to-date information
- Case studies and discussion will highlight conditions commonly seen in clinical practice
- Panel discussions will be used to provide an opportunity for experts to present differing viewpoints on various topics or issues
- Hands-on skill building workshops are included to provide attendees with the opportunity to practice skills

Educational Objectives

At the end of the activity, participants should be able to:

- Apply the pertinent medical knowledge in adult and pediatric diagnosis and resuscitation
