2006 Funded Projects

“Novel Methods for Defining Infection and Disease with M. tuberculosis”
Principal Investigator: Kathryn DeRiemer, Ph.D., M.P.H., Departments of Public Health and Medical Microbiology and Immunology, School of Medicine
Co-Investigator: Paul Luciw, Ph.D., Center for Comparative Medicine and Department of Medical Pathology and Laboratory Medicine, School of Medicine

“L-Arginine Therapy in Asthma”
Principal Investigator: Nicholas Kenyon, M.D., Department of Internal Medicine, School of Medicine
Co-Investigator: Jesse Joad, M.D., Department of Pediatrics, School of Medicine

“Translating Research in Practice: Improving Mental Health Care in California”
Principal Investigator: Debora Paterniti, Ph.D., Center for Health Science Research and Primary Care, Department of Internal Medicine, School of Medicine

“Telemedicine and Treatment of Hepatitis C”
Principal Investigator: Lorenzo Rossaro, M.D., Department of Internal Medicine, School of Medicine
Co-Investigator: Richard Kravitz, M.D., Department of Internal Medicine, School of Medicine

“Effectiveness of Genistein Combined Polysaccharide for the Treatment of Canine and Human Lymphoma”
Principal Investigator: Joseph Tuscano, M.D., Department of Internal Medicine, School of Medicine
Co-Investigators: Philip Mack, PhD., Department of Internal Medicine; Robert Hackman, Ph.D., Department of Nutrition, College of Biological Sciences; Michael Kent, D.V.M., Department of Radiation Oncology, School of Veterinary Medicine; David Shelton, M.D., Department of Radiology, School of Medicine

“Diagnostic Tools for Non-Alcoholic Steatohepatitis Using Lipomics”
Principal Investigator: Mark Zern, M.D., Department of Internal Medicine, School of Medicine
Co-Investigators: Natalie Torok, M.D., Department of Internal Medicine; Mohamed Ali, M.D., Department of Surgery, School of Medicine