UC Learning Center is now Operational

The UC Learning Center, powered by SumTotal, has now replaced HealthStream as the UC Davis Health System’s learning management system (LMS). The UC Learning Center provides a greatly improved learning experience and a variety of options to faculty and staff, such as:

- View the class catalog
- Easily enroll in classes
- View your class enrollments
- View mandatory training classes assigned to you
- View a list of classes for which you are waitlisted
- Class reminders will be automatically sent to you by e-mail.
- If you are waitlisted for a class, you will be automatically e-mailed if a seat in the class becomes available.

You may log on to the UC Learning Center at the website address below. We encourage you to make the website address one of your “Favorites” in your internet browser.

http://lms.ucdavis.edu

A Kerberos User ID and Password is required for UC Learning Center access. If you don’t have a Kerberos User ID and Password, you can establish your Kerberos account at the link below.

https://computingaccounts.ucdavis.edu

If you have an existing Kerberos account, but cannot recall your username or password, contact Technology Operations at (916) 734-4357 or contact IT Express (Davis Campus) for assistance with your account.

Enrollment data has been transferred from HealthStream to the UC Learning Center, so if you have already enrolled in classes, you are still enrolled in those classes in the UC Learning Center.

UC Learning Center training documents are now available on the Training and Development website to help you to navigate through the new system.

For more information about the UC Learning Center, contact Kelly Krehbiel in Training and Development at (916) 734-2542.