1. UC DAVIS NURSING RECEIVES GRANT FOR NEW FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

UC Davis today announced a $37.5 million grant from the Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation to launch the Betty Irene Moore Fellowship Program for Nurse Leaders and Innovators at the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing at UC Davis. This new fellowship program recognizes early-career nursing scholars and innovators with a high potential to accelerate leadership in nursing-science research, practice, education, policy and entrepreneurship.

This three-year fellowship program will engage promising nurse scholars in a journey of leadership development and mentorship to complete an innovative project or study. Each fellow will receive a total of $450,000 over three years to support their work. The program will feature a curriculum designed to develop leadership and innovation capacity, to strengthen strategic thinking and collaborative skills and propel innovative ideas to fruition. Recruitment begins in early January with the first cohort of fellows named by Spring 2020.

More information on the application process will be announced January 2020.

2. CELLULAR THERAPY TRAINING PROGRAM CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

The UC Davis Stem Cell Program is pleased to announce a new opportunity, funded by the California Institute for Regenerative Medicine (CIRM) through the Alpha Stem Cell Clinic Award. This is a call for applications for cell therapy/regenerative medicine fellowships for M.D.s and is closely aligned with the UC Davis Clinical and Translational Science Center (CTSC) Mentored Clinical Research Training Program (MCRTTP). The new Cellular Therapy Training Program is part of an integrated approach by the UC Davis Stem Cell Program, CIRM, and the UC Davis CTSC to advance human health by providing education and training to junior investigators to become competent in conducting clinical trials involving the administration of Cellular Therapy Products.

3. THE FRI INVITES PROPOSALS FOR THE FEMINIST FUTURES RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

The Feminist Research Institute (FRI) invites presentation proposals from UCD graduate students, junior faculty, adjuncts, and independent and visiting scholars for the Feminist Futures Research Symposium to be held on January 23, 2020 from 1-6pm. Organized around FRI's 2019-2020 theme "Feminist Futures," the symposium invites research from across the social sciences, humanities, law, and STEM fields. Keynote speakers will be Alisa Bierria (Philosophy, Stanford University) and Kara Keeling (Cinema and Media Studies, University of Chicago).

Proposals are due Friday, November 8th. Please visit our website for more details.

4. NURSE PRACTITIONER RESIDENCY PROGRAM LAUNCHED BY UC HEALTH

The new residency program for nurse practitioners at the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing has opened its applications. While nurse practitioner residency programs exist at other institutions, this is the first one to be funded by the Health Resources and Services Administration. The $3.5 million grant is monumental for the nursing community since it depicts federal recognition of the importance of nurse practitioners in primary care.

Applications are open until Jan. 6, 2020 for nurse practitioners who graduated within the past 18 months. The program is looking for family or adult gerontological nurse practitioners, specifically those interested in providing care to underserved populations.
