47th Annual Communicating Nursing Research Conference
Taking it Global: Research, Practice and Education in Nursing
APRIL 9-12, 2014

Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing at UC Davis
Participant Schedule
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9
4-7 P.M.
Debra Bakerjian, Ph.D., M.S.N., F.N.P., F.A.A.N.P.
Senior Director for Nurse Practitioner and Physician Assistant Clinical Education and Practice, Assistant Adjunct Professor
Elena Siegel, Ph.D., R.N.
Assistant Professor
Sarina Fazio, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Amy Doroy, M.S., R.N.
Doctoral candidate
Jacqueline C. Stocking, M.S.N., M.B.A., R.N.
Doctoral student
Integrating Research, Education and Practice to Improve Quality and Safety in Health Care
With the onset of the Affordable Care Act and the increased emphasis on quality and safety outcomes, leaders within education, practice and research must come together to ensure that future clinicians and leaders are better prepared to affect innovative and interprofessional systems level change. This session will focus on the interprofessional collaborative effort, offered by the UC Davis School of Nursing, to develop both the academic and applied processes for students to gain the knowledge and skills necessary to be leaders of systems level change for quality improvement and patient safety. The principles and concepts used to establish these courses and programs in an academic health setting are transferrable and scalable to other academic and community settings in various stages of readiness.

THURSDAY, APRIL 10
THROUGHOUT CONFERENCE DURING BREAKS
Jenny Carrick
Senior Director of Communications and Marketing
Tools, Tips, Tweets, and Talking Points: Communicating the Impact of Nursing
Take your communication to the next level. Building on last year’s very successful preconference workshop “Communicating the Impact of Nursing Research,” nursing communication experts Jenny Carrick from UC Davis and Laura Perry from UCLA are offering one-on-one sessions to attendees who wish to create or engage with similar researchers, uncover potential new strategies and funding opportunities, and respond to trade and general market media. Schedule a short session during the refreshment breaks on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Bring your communication challenges in areas including fundamentals of social media, strategic planning, key message and talking point development, media relations, and outreach and advocacy.

1-5 P.M.
Kupiri W. Ackerman-Barger, Ph.D., R.N.
Assistant Adjunct Professor
Poster Session: The Myth of Inclusion and Equity in Nursing Education
Andrea Broadley, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Poster Session: Evaluating Nurses’ Comfort Level in Emergency Situations in Critical Access Hospital
Janice F. Bell, M.N., M.P.H., Ph.D.
Assistant Professor
Symposium Moderator: Secondary Analysis of National Surveys: A Win-Win in Doctoral Nursing Education
Janice F. Bell, M.N., M.P.H., Ph.D.
Assistant Professor
Overview: Secondary Analysis of National Surveys: A Win-Win in Doctoral Nursing Education
Bronwyn Fields, R.N., M.P.H.
Doctoral student
Presentation: Does Rurality Modify Associations of Insurance Instability and Health Service Use?

Daphene Francis, R.N., M.S.
Doctoral student

Sally Moyce, R.N.
Doctoral student
Presentation: Insurance Coverage and Anticipatory Guidance: Are Hispanic Children Disadvantaged?

Holly Thurston, M.S.W.
Doctoral student
Presentation: Adverse Event Exposure and Resilience in Early Childhood

Robin Whitney, R.N.
Doctoral student
Presentation: Has Psychosocial Care Improved Among Adult Cancer Survivors in the United States?

FRIDAY, APRIL 11
8 A.M.-12 P.M.
Sarah Brown Blake, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Poster Session: The Myth of Inclusion and Equity in Nursing Education

Sarina Fazio, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Poster Session: Patient Experiences of Care Coordination for High Cost Chronic Conditions

11:15 A.M.-12:15 P.M.
PREVENTION AND MANAGEMENT ACROSS DISEASE TYPES
Perry M. Gee, R.N., M.S.N.
Doctoral candidate
Presentation: Use of Electronic Personal Health Records: Perceptions of the Chronically Ill Adult

12:25-1:25 P.M.
Heather M. Young, Ph.D., R.N., F.A.A.N.
Associate Vice Chancellor for Nursing, Dean and Professor
Networking with the Experts Luncheons: CTSAs in the West: Meeting of Nurse Scientists
Network with nurse scientists involved in CTSAs across your region. Discuss collaborative opportunities and strategies to increase visibility of nurse scientists in the CTSA portfolio.

1-5 P.M.
Jeri Bigbee, Ph.D., R.N., F.N.P.-B.C., F.A.A.N.
Adjunct Professor
Nurse Practitioner: Practice and Education
Poster session: APNS and the Population Health in Frontier Communities

1:30-2:45 P.M.
AT-RISK AND VULNERABLE ADOLESCENTS AND YOUNG ADULTS
Sheridan Miyamoto, R.N., F.N.P.
Doctoral candidate
Presentation: Impact of Telemedicine on Rural Forensic Sexual Abuse Examination Quality
Sarina Fazio, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Poster Session: Patient Experiences of Care Coordination for High Cost Chronic Conditions

Sarina Fazio, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Kelley Ceccon, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Poster Session: Developing Standardized Outpatient Care Coordination Discharge Practices

Joanna Mello, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Evaluating Psychiatric Nursing Competencies Applied to Emergency Settings

Ellen Goldstein, M.F.T.
Doctoral student
Impact of Maternal Mental Health on Affect Regulation Among Children in U.S.

Robin MacPherson-Dias, R.N.
Master of Science Leadership student
Development of a Sepsis Screening Tool for Use in Nursing Homes

Jann Murray-Garcia, M.D., M.P.H.
Assistant Adjunct Professor
Perinatal and Women’s Health Issues
Poster Session: Identifying African American Women at High Psychosocial Risk for Poor Birth Outcomes

Kupiri W. Ackerman-Barger, Ph.D., R.N.
Assistant Adjunct Professor
Networking with the Experts Luncheons: Inclusion and Equity: What it means for nursing education, what it means for the healthcare

In this session we will unpack the realities experienced by underserved populations. With a dynamic and interactive conversation we can explore tools for making an individual difference and for catalyzing systematic change.

Jenny Carrick
Senior Director of Communications and Marketing
Networking with the Experts Luncheons: Communicating your nursing science

Continuing the discussion from WIN 2013, this roundtable will provide an opportunity for nurse researchers to consider how they can communicate their expert and leadership roles to multiple audiences. The moderators will include best practices and examples of how research has been showcased in general market media coverage, social media and how nurses are influencing policy.

Ellen E. Goldstein, M.F.T.
Doctoral student
Mental Health Issues across the Lifespan
Presentation: Impact of Maternal Mental Health on Child Well-Being and Resilience