

Tan Van Nguyen, M.D.

Philosophy of Care	As a family medicine doctor, Dr. Nguyen appreciates the opportunity to provide health care for anyone who walks in the door, adults and children alike. He truly believes in primary care, with an emphasis on disease prevention, patient education and empowerment, and the pursuit of a healthy lifestyle. His training has provided him with experience in adult medicine, women's health, pediatrics and office orthopaedics, and he hopes to use all of these experiences to the best of his ability.
Clinical Interests	Dr. Nguyen's clinical interests include comprehensive primary care for adults, women and children. He also has an interest in office orthopaedics (joint injections, minor casting and splinting, and basic fracture management) and minor office procedures.
