Michael John Ferns, B.Sc.(Hons), Ph.D.

Clinical Interests
My interest is in diseases of cholinergic neuromuscular and autonomic synapses, such as myasthenia gravis and congenital myasthenic syndrome. Our aim is to understand the pathological basis for these diseases at a molecular level and to define new therapeutic targets for the treatment of these disorders.

Research/Academic Interests
My research interest is in understanding the cellular and molecular basis of synapse formation in the mammalian nervous system. Synapse formation is critical for the formation, maintenance and plasticity of the nervous system and perturbations in synaptic structure and function have been implicated in a range of neurological disorders.

My research focuses on cholinergic synapses that play critical roles in the functioning of both the peripheral and central nervous systems. Our main aims are (1) to define the extracellular synaptogenic factors that regulate the formation and maintenance of neuromuscular and neuronal autonomic synapses in the PNS; (2) to define the intracellular mechanisms that regulate the trafficking and localization of nicotinic acetylcholine receptors at these synapses; and (3) to establish how defects in synapse formation or receptor localization contribute to neurological diseases such as myasthenia gravis and congenital myasthenic syndromes. This includes collaborative studies with clinician-scientists at UCDavis.

Nina Schloemerkemper welcomes LGBT patients.

Philosophy of Care
Most patients feel anxious when they are about to have surgery. Dr. Schloemerkemper tries to alleviate this by strengthening the patient-doctor-relationship and taking patients’ concerns seriously. She believes that kindness and honesty are vital. Every patient deserves a customized approach to their anesthetic. There is no one-size-fits-all.

Clinical Interests
Nina Schloemerkemper joined UC Davis Medical Center in September 2010. She is the Director of the Neuroanesthesia Rotation, which means that she is particularly interested in caring for patients undergoing surgery of the brain or spine. In this role she also oversees the training of the residents in this subspecialty.

Apart from Neuroanesthesia she has a particular interest in the management of the difficult airway, peri-operative allergic reactions and anaphylaxis as well as resident education.

She is part of the OB anesthesia team.

Research/Academic Interests
Originally from Germany, Nina Schloemerkemper earned her medical degree in 2001 at the University of Lübeck, Germany. She then went on to complete doctoral studies at the same university before starting her anesthesia training at the University of Kiel, Germany.

She completed her training while rotating through several hospitals within London, UK including St. George’s Hospital. She became a Fellow of the Royal College of Anaesthetists (FRCA) in 2006 and board certified in Germany in 2008.

Samir Jayraj Sheth welcomes LGBT patients.

Dr. Sheth completed his residency in Anesthesiology at Columbia University in New York City and his fellowship in Pain Medicine at the University of California, Davis in Sacramento, CA. He is board certified in both Anesthesiology and Pain Medicine. As co-director of neuromodulation, much of his interest in pain medicine involves the mechanism of spinal cord stimulation and the treatment of persistent, neuropathic pain with spinal cord stimulation.

He also has an interest in furthering the field of evidenced-based pain medicine. Dr. Sheth's goal is to provide a safe, comprehensive approach to minimize pain. He has published chapters in pain medicine textbooks and is actively involved in research projects involving low back and neck pain.

Dr. Sheth's research interests include: Spinal Cord Stimulation, Neuropathic Pain, Radiofrequency Ablation, and Ultrasound Guided Techniques.
