Leading the way in reducing LGBT health disparities

UC Davis is committed to providing equitable, inclusive care for all:

- Named a Leader in LGBT Healthcare Equality three years running by the Human Rights Campaign Foundation for creating an inclusive, welcoming environment for LGBT patients and their families
- The nation’s first academic health system to incorporate patients’ sexual orientation and gender identity in electronic health records, making care more appropriate and responsive
- Curricula and training about delivering patient-centered care for LGBT populations available for faculty, staff and students
- Roster of LGBT-welcoming health providers who self-identify based on experience or comfort level
- Staff programs to raise awareness and promote acceptance, such as Come Out For Your Health
