

Graduate education at the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing at UC Davis

UC DAVIS
BETTY IRENE MOORE
SCHOOL OF NURSING

THE UC DAVIS SCHOOL OF NURSING offers several programs of graduate study. All are led by the Nursing Science and Health-Care Leadership Graduate Group, an interprofessional team of more than 50 faculty members from disciplines including nursing, medicine, nutrition, statistics, pharmacy and public health.

The current graduate degree programs are:

| DEGREES | ABOUT THE PROGRAM |
|--|--|
| Doctor of Philosophy | This full-time, academic doctoral program prepares graduates as leaders in health care, health policy and as nurse faculty and researchers at the university level. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree. |
| Master of Health Services — Physician Assistant | This program prepares graduates to deliver care as physician assistants, with a focus on providing primary care for underserved populations throughout the state and working as members of health-care teams. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree. |
| Master of Science — Leadership | This full-time, professional degree program prepares graduates for health-care leadership roles in a variety of organizations and as nurse faculty at the community-college level. Applicants must have a current registered nurse license and a bachelor's degree. |
| Master of Science — Nurse Practitioner | This program prepares graduates to deliver care as nurse practitioners, with emphasis on providing primary care for underserved populations in California and working as members of health-care teams. Applicants must have a current registered nurse license and a bachelor's degree. |
| IN DEVELOPMENT: Master's Entry Program in Nursing | This full-time program will prepare graduates to deliver care as registered nurses. Graduates of the program will be qualified to take the national licensing examination (NCLEX) for registered nurses, eligible for certification as a Public Health Nurse and earn a Master of Science in Nursing degree. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree. |

To learn more, visit nursing.ucdavis.edu

VISION

THE BETTY IRENE MOORE SCHOOL OF NURSING AT UC DAVIS advances health and ignites leadership through innovative education, transformative research and bold system change.

UCDAVIS
BETTY IRENE MOORE
SCHOOL OF NURSING

4610 X St., #4202, Sacramento, CA 95817 | (916) 734-2145 | nursing.ucdavis.edu